

A big thank you to all pupils and parents that are helping us to comply with the changes to safeguarding legislation that require us to keep pupils safe online through our policies, procedures and web filtering systems. In our administration office, we have individual named lockers for each pupil that are locked throughout the day.

Almost all pupils are now following the school policy and we will be working with the parents of those that are struggling over the coming weeks.

Sycamore

Mark has been out for two days this week on a training course and so in his absence, Paul has been leading in Sycamore Class.

Paul has been really impressed with the fantastic work ethic displayed by the Sycamore team and enjoyed being given the opportunity to join the hat parade!

Getting ready to strum!

We are slowly settling into our routines for learning and enjoyed welcoming Chris Poole back to school for Darragh's weekly guitar lesson on Thursday.

It would seem that Chris and Darragh have inspired some of our other pupils because more have expressed an interest in learning guitar. With that in mind, Chris is running a "meet and greet" workshop next Thursday afternoon in the school hall for interested pupils with a view to small group beginner lessons happening from the following week.

Autumn

Lime Class are learning about the seasons throughout the academic year and so Michelle has been collecting autumn treasures this week and using them in her art and crafts work; she has even made a mask and turned herself into a scarecrow!

Library

Some of our pupils have visited Oakham Library this week and it has been great to see them getting engrossed in their reading choices.
